WHAT IS HIGH SCHOOL?

We endeavor to answer this question

as it applies to Garinger High School

SNIPS & CUTS

What is high school? High school is a place, a beautiful campus with modern buildings, ideally suited to their function in the education of youth:

a library of distinctive architecture, whose location at the center of the campus is symbolic of the fact that intellectual accomplishment is the central purpose of Garinger;

a modern cafeteria which not only contributes to the physical well being of students but also serves as a center of social activity;

and a spacious gymnasium, the scene of exciting interscholastic athletic contests, which is in use every hour of the school day.

There are other buildings down whose long corridors young people walk to reach modern classrooms and well equipped laboratories.

And there are teachers, mature people dedicated to the purpose of helping young people to become successful individuals.

Because we admire his intellect and respect his scholarship, because we appreciate the challenge of his conviction that Garinger students are capable of high scholastic achievement, because we are grateful for his sincere interest in our present and future success, and because the standards he has helped to establish and maintain have given stature to Garinger's foreign language department—we the staff, on behalf of the student body, proudly and affectionately dedicate the nineteen hundred sixty-three edition of SNIPS AND CUTS to

Is it French, Spanish, or Latin? It could be any as the foreign language teachers discuss goals for their department.

What is high school? High school is a group of young people—eager, enthusiastic, ambitious—living fully in the present while preparing themselves for even more effective life in the future. It is a splendid cross section of youth with a variety of dreams, ideals, and hopes, but with the common goal of developing the personal qualities which will enable them to contribute to a society that demands the best of its citizens. Through participation in the wide range of experiences high school offers, they are able to grow intellectually, physically, socially, and spiritually.

SENIOR RING COMMITTEE

Four members of the Senior Ring Committee admire the sample ring while they record sizes as juniors are measured for their rings.

They are: Camille Bass, Janelle Weir, Rosemary Bonnevie, Wanda Stephens.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM COMMITTEE

Representatives from several Junior-Senior Prom Committees experiment with some ideas for decorations.

They are: Bobby Elmore, Connie Phillips, Ronald Aldridge, Rosemary Bonnevie, Shannon Hershberger, Sharon Peoples, David Moore.

Mr. Hicks has become a familiar face to sophomores like Diane Williams and Donald Barnton who participate in the Driver's Education program.

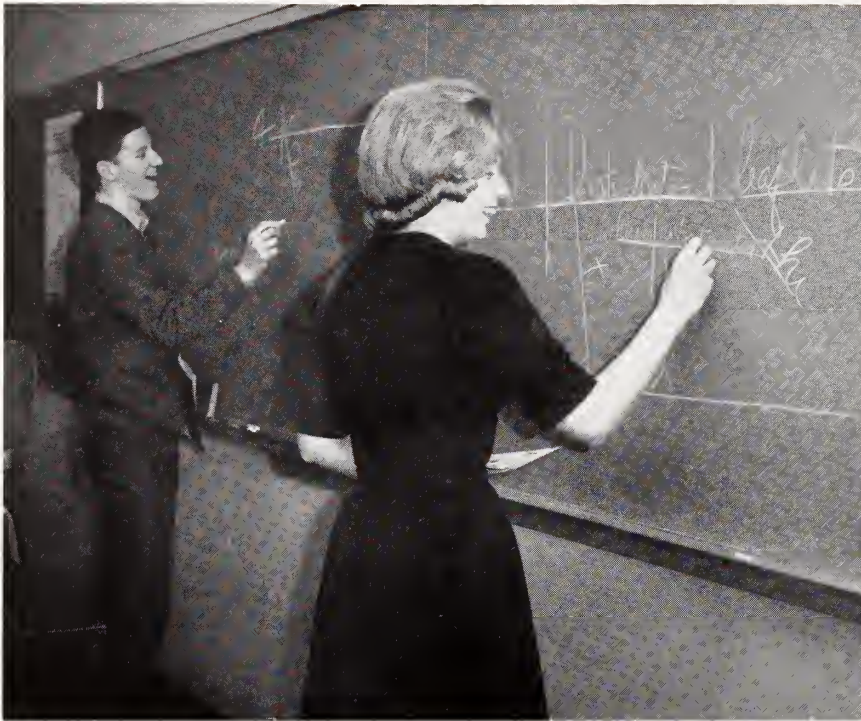

What is high school? Primarily high school is the opportunity to grow in knowledge, in understanding, and in judgment. It is a meeting of minds with the consequent stimulus to intellectual growth.

The mature mind of the teacher leads the student to ever higher levels of understanding and guides him in solving increasingly difficult problems. The meeting of minds between student and student in class discussions is a challenge to think clearly. Through reading and research, the student meets the minds of the great statesmen, scientists, scholars, poets, and philosophers of all ages. All of these experiences contribute to the achievement of intellectual maturity, the goal of the program of academics.

CURRICULUM

Johnny Roberts and Nancy Watson seem to be enjoying a private joke as they diagram sentences in sophomore English.

Grammar, which is stressed in the sophomore year, provides an intensive study of sentence construction, punctuation, and grammatical principles. There is also emphasis upon the use of varied types of sentence structure and upon the mastery of parallel constructions.

The program of grammar after the sophomore year consists of review and encourages more complete mastery of correct and effective expression. Composition provides many opportunities for the application of these principles.

ENGLISH

The primary purpose of the course in Junior English is to acquaint the students with important American writers, both "old masters" and modern. American novels, short stories, poetry and drama are read. Enrichment of the course is done at the teacher's discretion. Among the extra offerings are some Shakespeare, Les Miserables, and Antigone. Juniors study Moby Dick in detail. Great emphasis is placed on expository writing, and some classes do research papers. Talented students are encouraged to do extra writing.

Carolyn Caudle and Philip Thorne receive a deeper understanding of Hugo's Les Miserables through student projects in junior English.

Mrs. Caldwell familiarizes students Linda Tall, Annette Wilcox and Jerry Hicks with famous authors studied in sophomore literature.

Sophomore English gives the student an acquaintance with various types of literature. A unit of mythology, which often includes the Odyssey, is taught to all sophomores. There is an intensive study of the poem Idylls of the King. Students get their first glimpse of Shakespeare in their study of Julius Caesar. Among other works that are studied are Silas Marner, David Copperfield, and sometimes The Tale of Two Cities.

Patty Kelly shows Paul Tucker a representative of early English literature.

Senior English involves a study of English literature from the Anglo-Saxon period to the present. A study of The Canterbury Tales acquaints the students with the literature of Medieval England. Emphasis is placed upon Shakespeare. A unit of tragedy is taught which includes Oedipus Rex and Macbeth. The works of modern British authors such as Hardy and Conrad are studied. Seniors are given a great deal of practice in exposition and research. The study of poetry—writing and interpretation—is carried on at intervals throughout the year.

Anita Hull locates the Sea of Galilee for Paul Brown as Miss Robinson looks on.

Some of the world's greatest literature is contained in the Bible, and students of Bible learn to appreciate it as literature.

However, the great emphasis in Bible courses is upon learning the truths of the Bible and applying them to one's daily life.

Mrs. Frech and Mrs. Morrison help seniors Dale Creighton and Wally Yarbrough with research techniques.

Research Seminar is primarily for college-bound students. It consists of the gathering, organizing, and presenting of information on some subject relating to history or the social sciences. Students become acquainted with standard research aids found in libraries and learn to use them. Where possible, students are encouraged to use primary materials in addition to secondary materials. Research Seminar provides training in note taking, making a bibliography, and writing long papers in the manner and style approved in most colleges and universities. The use of formal style is emphasized. Students benefit by the analysis and discussion of their papers.

Sammy Todd and Mary Lee Hall discuss projects constantly on display in Miss Clegg's Latin class.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Spanish courses at Garinger are designed to enable students to comprehend and to speak the language and to know and appreciate Spanish literature.

The first and second years stress grammar, vocabulary building, and pronunciation. Although the third year course is largely a study of Spanish literature, it also includes composition, conversation, and linguistic analysis. Among the literature studied in the third year classes is Don Quixote by Cervantes.

Garinger offers three years of French. French I emphasizes the fundamentals of simple grammar. Records and tapes are used to enable students to learn correct pronunciation and to master simple idioms.

Under the direction of Miss Fuller, students Karen Suitt, David Wilkinson and Mike Langford benefit from the use of records in Spanish class.

Colorful posters provide beneficial visual aids for students Tom Herman, Joan McCarty and Ronny Aldridge in French III.

In French II the student proceeds to more advanced grammar. Through conversation and exposition he gains some proficiency in the use of the language. Reading in French contributes to his knowledge of French civilization, increases his comprehension of the language, and enlarges his vocabulary.

French III, though largely a course in literature, also stresses conversation and exposition.

Barbara Peckworth tapes excerpts from her research paper on Communism as Ray Bouley and Don White wait to record.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Senior social studies is an elective course designed to consist of a semester of economics and a semester of sociology. During the first semester a survey of the principles and problems of economics includes production, determination of prices, international trade, labor and farm problems, and other economic systems such as communism, socialism and fascism.

The second semester utilizes materials from sociology, anthropology, psychology, and political science to study human nature and the structure of prehistoric and contemporary societies.

In world history, Mrs. Lewis explains to Charlene Vincent a correction of her term paper while Luther Moore waits to ask a question.

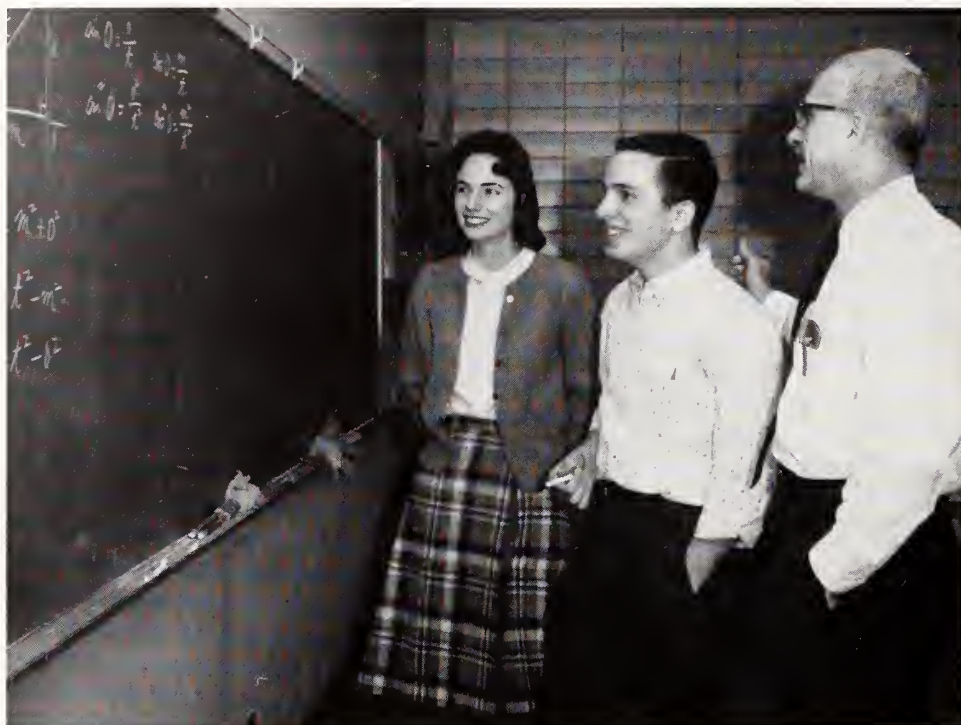

Through the use of fossils and books, Mrs. Frech gives students Diane Hollenbeck, Jimmy Hollar, Tim Krobath and Jimmy Freeze a better understanding of prehistoric man.

Beginning with prehistoric man, the student studies the origin and development of ideas, form of government, and institutions which are the basis of our life today.

Past civilizations, including the Egyptian, Greek and Roman, are studied to gain insight as to how nations gained an advanced culture and why they declined.

An understanding of past experiences in the progress of man can help give us a perspective in applying historic principles to present problems. In this brief survey of man's achievements and failures, we can better understand how to inculcate those ideals which will insure America the democratic leadership of the future.

Mr. Karl Sawyer explains basic trigonometric functions to students Linda Cammer and David McGinnis.

Garinger's mathematics department gives practical training in mathematics for students whose formal education will end with high school as well as for those who will continue their education at the college level. However, great emphasis is placed upon providing a strong foundation for college mathematics.

Both solid geometry and trigonometry are subjects which challenge the superior student. They are electives, chosen usually by college preparatory students who plan to study engineering or to major in mathematics. Solid geometry develops an understanding of three dimensional concepts. It includes topics such as lines and planes in space, lateral and total areas of solids, volumes, and practical problems.

Trigonometry includes topics such as the trigonometric functions defined as ratios, the principal algebraic relations between them and their application to the solutions of right, scalene, and oblique triangles, logarithms, graphs of the trigonometric functions, practical problems, and analytic trigonometry.

MATHEMATICS

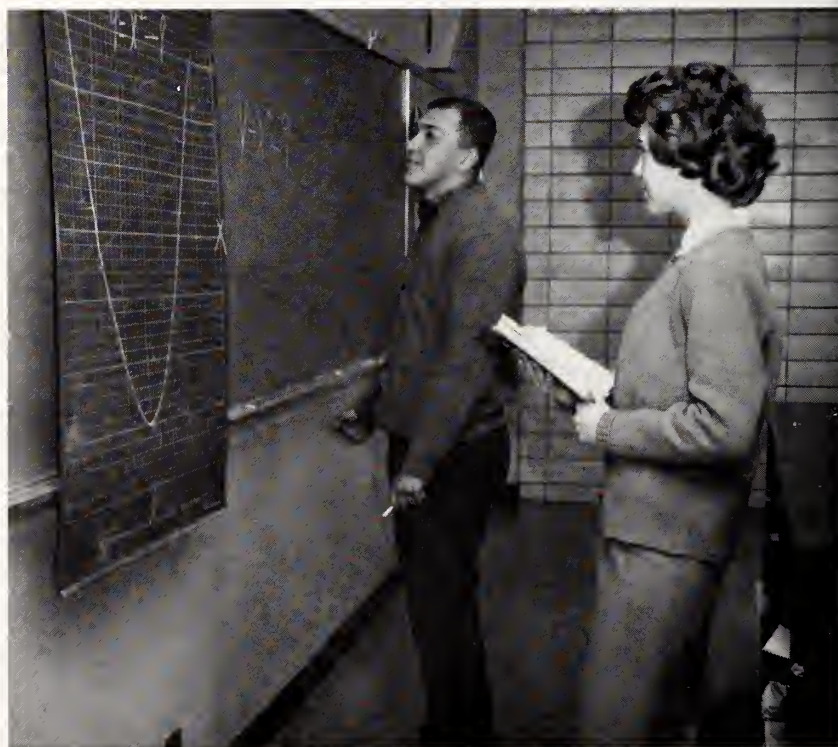

Since a knowledge of algebra is necessary to success in all advanced mathematics, college preparatory students study at least two years of algebra, and many elect to take the semester of college algebra which is offered. Algebra supplies the language and is the principal tool of all mathematics above the level of arithmetic. The study of algebra is an effective introduction to logical thinking, and provides training in neatness, order, and diligence.

Graphing equations is a vital part of algebra as Darrell Carlton and Brenda Beaver have discovered.

Students Ginny Hunter and Ronnie Payne enjoy constructing geometric figures under the supervision of Mrs. Smith.

Every college preparatory student is required to study one year of plane geometry. In this course the student begins with a few accepted mathematical axioms and postulates and progresses to proofs of theorems and related problems, all of which are developed by using reasoning patterns of logic. Throughout the course, the principles of solid geometry that correspond to the plane ones studied are introduced.

In order to learn more about the structure of marine life, Herbert Hartman and Jerry Hicks examine dissected organisms.

One year of biology is required of all Garinger students. Many college preparatory students, especially those who expect to major in science, take Biology II.

Biology enables the student to learn the relationships which exist between organisms in nature. Representatives of the principal animal and plant groups are examined and life cycles are compared. Special emphasis is placed upon the anatomy and physiology of the human body.

Hampton Hager and Lewis Hooper observe with pleasure the successful results of their physics experiment.

Debby Lazarus and Beverly Walters use the balance to weigh the carbon dioxide which they have collected in their chemistry experiment.

SCIENCE

Chemistry I gives the student elementary and fundamental concepts of general chemistry, mostly in the inorganic field. In the first semester, students are taught to write chemical formulas and equations, as well as to develop laboratory techniques. During the second semester, students study specific elements, qualitative analysis, and some organic chemistry.

Chemistry II is designed to give interested students further information on fundamentals. Individual laboratory work is given, including frequent and extensive use of the analytical balances. During the second semester, students study qualitative analysis and organic chemistry.

Mechanical drawing is only one phase in the industrial arts field. Because of limited shop facilities, Garinger can offer only Mechanical Drawing I and Mechanical Drawing II.

In Mechanical Drawing I, emphasis is placed on lines (weights and types of line), lettering (sizes and slopes), and dimensioning. Proper use of scale, triangles, erasing shield, T-square and board is stressed.

Mechanical Drawing II for the first semester is a continuation of Drawing I with an increase in the difficulty of problems. The second semester is architectural drafting with particular emphasis on the planning and drawing of a complete set of house plans.

Although mechanical drawing is designed primarily for vocational students, it is of particular benefit to pre-engineering students.

John Glenn uses various instruments to construct house plans in mechanical drawing.

VOCATIONAL

D.E. student Warren Greene spends half the day in obtaining on-the-job training.

Garinger offers a program in industrial cooperative training for students who wish to enter an occupation before they graduate from high school. Through I.C.T. students receive on-the-job training and professional assistance in their chosen occupation. The related study activity is one of the most important phases of the I.C.T. program. General and technical material is provided for use in giving the student information essential to the occupation. The technical information is provided on an individual study basis in order to afford every student an opportunity to gain competence in this phase of his occupation.

Mr. Doster gives I.C.T. students George Smith, Barry Helms and Jimmy Barnes a gentle warning about grades.

Distributive education students participate in a co-operative vocational program. They go to school half the day where they complete the required subjects and two courses in D.E. The last half of the day they receive valuable training on the job. Through D.E. students study the economics of distribution, the organization of business, financial practice and money management.

From the broad curriculum offered by Garinger, typewriting is elected by several hundred students each year. Some, especially college-preparatory students, take it for its personal values; others take it for its vocational values.

College students who cannot type find it increasingly difficult to complete research papers satisfactorily. The business executive, the professional worker, and even the housewife find it helpful to be able to type personal business letter, reports, records, and other items.

Many of our high school graduates who study typing for two years find employment as stenographers, receptionists, and secretaries. Quite often they are able to advance to positions with good salaries and with duties that require skill and responsibility.

Students find typing very helpful in preparing for a business vocation or for college.

Secretarial students Patsy Williams, Carole Overman, Kay Green and Sharon Adams operate office machinery in secretarial office practice.

COMMERCIAL

Shorthand is primarily a vocational subject, but it may have personal uses, especially for the college student who takes notes in shorthand. Those who complete two years of shorthand in high school are qualified to take dictation and transcribe it accurately in the business office.

Mr. Privette dictates to shorthand students Carol Cross, Vickie Roper and Ruth Gordon.

Secretarial office practice is the terminal course for secretarial students. A comprehensive course in filing is given; a working knowledge of calculating, bookkeeping, duplicating, and transcribing machines is offered; and many units of a practical nature are covered, such as: good grooming, office-style dictation, and getting and holding a job. After completing the course, students are qualified for recommendation for a secretarial position in any office.

Miss Ryan directs Sherry House, Sandra Funderburke, Jackie Small and Wanda Grant as they make biscuits in foods class.

Foods is a semester course for girls who have had some home economics training and who are especially interested in further study of foods.

This course includes the art of setting an attractive table, the selection of appropriate tableware, and the preparation of foods. Students learn to prepare salads, simple luncheons, and dinners for special occasions. In addition to learning to cook, home economics students learn to be gracious hostesses and skillful homemakers.

HOME ARTS

Pat Macaulay helps Vickie Hunter fit the skirt she has just made in clothing.

Since adequate housing makes a contribution to satisfactory home living, it is the purpose of this course to help students understand the problems of making a house a home from the economic, aesthetic, and practical point of view. Experience found in their present homes and in the homemaking department provide the background for their sense of values.

Mrs. Boyd teaches students Billy Cole and Brenda Lewis to select adequate curtain material.

Being accepted by others is extremely important to the high school girl. The way a young person selects her clothes has a great deal to do with the way she feels and the way others judge her. Construction of her own clothes is not a necessity; yet it tends to give the girl the satisfaction of creation, the ability to judge quality in workmanship, and the chance to vary her wardrobe.

Patty Giles, Pat Christenbury, Cynthia Livingston and Susan Greene have brought fame to Garinger by winning gold keys for their outstanding paintings.

ART

To the students of Garinger, the art department has been a source of constant wonder and appreciation. The work of the students has been displayed throughout the year on the school bulletin boards. An increased interest in art by the students has made it necessary to extend the art department this year. Besides the regular courses in art and ceramics, a new course in painting is offered.

Students in the art classes at Garinger are provided the opportunity and encouraged to experiment with and develop sensitivity to a variety of techniques and materials.

A student may specialize in the area of ceramics and painting. In Art I and Art II, class projects are created using watercolor, casein, tempera, and encaustic for paintings; clay and glazes for ceramics; and plaster, wood, and metal for sculpture. Other fields of art studied are drawing, printing and stitchery. Subject matter is as diverse as are the students' interpretations of still life.

Art students enjoy creating objects from clay in ceramics.

Beyond the personal satisfaction achieved from creative expression, students enjoy seeing their work exhibited in the school and at local and state exhibitions.

Dianne Bethune, Diana Mull and Frances Martin demonstrate the art of sculpturing.

Garinger's vocal music program enables a student to participate in organized singing. In addition to actual vocal instruction, students receive some instruction in music theory and appreciation. Membership in the Garinger choir or chorus provides an opportunity for a student to contribute to the school life by participating in numerous assemblies and other programs.

Choir members, under the direction of Mr. John Sanders, enjoy group singing.

MUSIC

Mr. Stern helps violas master difficult rhythms in orchestral music.

At Garinger students are given an opportunity to learn to appreciate fine music of all kinds through music appreciation. This course includes a study of the history and literature of music. The lives of great composers and the times in which they lived are a vital part of this course. Music appreciation aims to create in the student an understanding of music. The course is based on study and listening rather than on actual performance.

Mr. John Sanders teaches music appreciation students Tommy Sparks and Richard Benzie by using records, books, and musical scores.

Playing in the school orchestra is very beneficial to a student. He gains dexterity, a concept of tone, and mental alertness. An orchestra member learns to follow directions and to function as one part in an entire group working together for one purpose. Whether or not a student becomes skillful in playing his instrument is not so important as is the fact that he does learn to appreciate fine music. This appreciation enables him to more fully enjoy concerts and symphonies as well as musical productions.

One year of physical education is required, and most students fulfill this requirement during their sophomore year.

For boys such activities as calisthenics, tumbling, wrestling and weight lifting serve to develop physical fitness.

Boys also learn to play touch football and volleyball, and engage in these sports on an intramural basis.

Boys learn to build human pyramids in the tumbling unit taught in physical education.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Brenda Conder executes the shoot through, a stunt learned in the gymnastics unit of physical education.

The girls engage in a number of group sports: tennis, field hockey, archery, volleyball, track and softball. Intramural games add interest to the course. A number of extramural basketball games have been played this year.

Girls' physical education is designed to achieve physical fitness and dexterity, and to develop good posture and gracefulness. The varied activities in physical education classes include calisthenics, tumbling and modern dancing.

Physical education students enjoy the unit on modern dance which is being taught for the first time this year.

What is high school? High school is fun! High school is also responsibility; it is work; it is service. High school is happy association with others, an experience in friendship, cooperation, dedication, and loyalty. It is an opportunity to grow in compassion; in the capacity to understand, to respect, and to appreciate other people; and in the ability to work together in the spirit of democracy. It is all of these things, which are provided by Garinger's fine student organizations and which are inherent in its many worth-while student activities.

1963 SNIPS & CUTS

To present an accurate picture of the school in all of its activities, and to capture and faithfully record the memories of the current year—these are the challenges accepted annually by a small group of students, the yearbook staff.

The task of producing the 1963 SNIPS & CUTS began in the spring of the preceeding year as staff members made decisions about the style of the book, arranged for the photography of seniors to be done during the vacation months, and organized the advertising campaign. The work continued through the summer as staff members sold advertising space, helped schedule senior pictures, and secured judges for the beauty section.

The opening of school brought a ceaseless round of activity—selling subscriptions, supervising the photography of underclassmen, selling picture packages, scheduling the photography of groups, identifying group pictures; and collecting, organizing, and editing the vast amount of information required to tell the Garinger story.

Only a dedicated group of students could have achieved all that was necessary to create the 1963 edition of SNIPS & CUTS.

Presidents of sophomore, junior, and senior home-rooms make up the membership of the Student Council, which began its year's activities with an orientation program for sophomores in order to help the new students with their adjustment to senior high school.

In September the Student Council entertained at a tea for the faculty. Later in the year it helped to make the visit of the "Amigos" from Peru an enjoyable, profitable, and memorable experience for both the visitors and the Garinger students.

Each year the Student Council gives two one-hundred dollar scholarships to deserving seniors. Many homerooms and clubs participate in the carnival held annually in the spring, which provides the money for these scholarships.

With Miss Nancy Abell as adviser, council activities were carried on under the leadership of capable officers elected by the entire student body. This year's officers attended the District Student Council Convention in Belmont, the State Convention in Charlotte, and the Southern Convention in Richmond, Virginia.

Garinger students are kept well informed about school events and about community events of special interest to teen-agers through Garinger's excellent bi-monthly newspaper, The Rambler.

The Rambler, published under the leadership of its adviser, Miss Barbara Harmon, and its editor, Gracia Barker, also includes lively and thought-provoking editorials, interesting feature stories, and systematic coverage of club activities.

This year an attractive new mast head, a drawing of the front of the school, was added to brighten the front page.

New, also, this year is the selection of "Top Teens." Once a month The Rambler staff selects an outstanding boy and girl to be the "Top Teens" for that particular month.

ORCHESTRA

Students interested in playing stringed instruments have an opportunity to learn, to perform, and to appreciate good musical literature through membership in the Garinger High School String Orchestra.

During each season they perform as a group at a number of school and community affairs. Several especially talented students are also members of the Piedmont Youth Orchestra.

Highlights of the year's activities are the Christmas concert and the presentation of a musical comedy, in both of which the string orchestra cooperates with Garinger's other musical organizations.

Under the direction of Mr. Jack Stern, the Garinger High School Marching Band has had another active year. Those who attended football games in the fall were impressed with the splendid halftime entertainment presented by the band.

The "Marching Wildcats" contributed to the success of Charlotte civic undertakings as they marched in both the Armistice Day Parade and the Carrousel Parade.

After the football season ended, the group, functioning now as a concert band, continued to work extensively to master the basic fundamentals of music and instrumental techniques. Band members increased their familiarity with musical literature and their ability to appreciate good music.

The band continued to serve the school and the community, as small ensembles were called upon to perform at various functions. In May the band cooperated with the choir and the orchestra to present

The Garinger High School Choir and the two choruses under the direction of Mr. John Sanders have achieved such a degree of excellence that during the last nine years they have repeatedly received "superior" and "excellent" ratings in the district vocal music contest conducted annually in Albemarle.

From time to time the choral groups perform in community functions such as church festivals and Charlotte's beautiful Easter Sunrise Service. Their selections in the music department's annual Thanksgiving and Christmas concerts are always warmly received by the faculty and student audience.

The big event of the spring season was the presentation of the musical comedy "Bells Are Ringing," which was produced in cooperation with the orchestra.

Through its many projects the Key Club, a service and leadership organization, has again been a key in the activities of Garinger.

The Key Club's most outstanding service to the school was its annual publication of the student directory, a copy of which was given at no charge to each student and to each member of the faculty. This year the income from directory advertising provided the Key Club with enough money to meet publication expenses and a small profit to support other projects, allowing the Key Club to perform many outstanding services.

The club supplied the jukebox in the cafeteria this year for the enjoyment of the student body.

The Key Club enlisted the support of Garinger students in two significant community service projects. The boxes of clothing collected in the fall were sincerely appreciated, and the generous student response to the toy drive brought Christmas joy to many children in the Charlotte area.

Funds raised through this year's Key Club Kapers provided the two two-hundred dollar scholarships given by the club this year.

Initiation is a time that will be remembered forever.

Janice Harris and Joyce Gattis perform the familiar task of making twirlies.

"Lend a Hand" is the motto of the Girls' Good Sports Club. Among the many valuable services that the girls perform for the benefit of the school are decorating the stadium during football season, selling twirlies at all football games, selling corsages at the homecoming game, and working hard at carwashes to raise money for a scholarship given to a deserving senior on Honors and Awards Day.

Their services extend, also, to the community. Their participation in the Heart Fund and the Easter Seal campaigns has been very effective. The G. G. S. girls also run the Mary Jo cart at Mercy Hospital and show films at the Charlotte Rehabilitation Center.

But not all the activities of the G. G. S. are hard work. During the course of the year, members have many social activities. The beach trip is the last social event of the year. At this time the girls really have a ball.

Martha McAteer, Pam Shuford, Janet Stroud, and Joel Gaither decorate the Garinger goalpost for the Myers Park game.

These happy new members helped the Centrusa Club, a selective girls' service club sponsored by the Altrusa Women's Organization, with all the services that it rendered.

Selling pep cards and stationery were two of the main projects of the club. Here Janet Stroud and Mary Ruth Myers persuade Jimmy Easterling to buy some of their useful products. The club also served the community by soliciting for the Heart Fund Campaign and by donating a generous amount to the "Empty Stocking Fund."

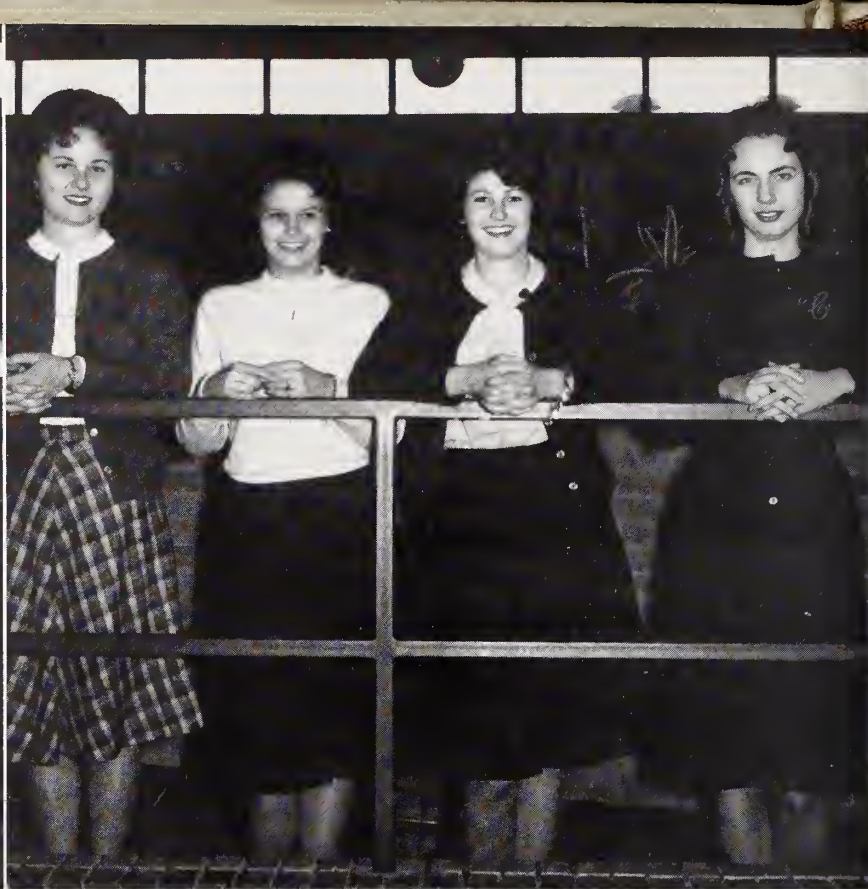

During basketball season the Centrusa Club sponsored one of the home games. Attendance was boosted by the special appearance of the "mystery guests," the "Sherrells."

The major project of the year was the annual Centrusa Fashion Show, presented in the spring. Helen Woolard, Sandy Shuford, and Joel Gaither, three of the models, preview the look for spring. The money raised by this and other projects was given in the form of a scholarship to a deserving senior girl at Honors and Awards Day.

Harriet Small and Pat Torrence are successful in selling a football program.

"Buy a program!" These words are familiar to all who attend Garinger football games, where the Adelphians are always present, energetically selling programs. The Adelphian club, a sophomore service organization, bases membership on service, character, friendship, and scholarship.

Known for their service work, not only at Garinger but throughout the city, members find pleasure in collecting for the Heart Fund, working in the children's wards at local hospitals, serving at the Senior Banquet, and being responsible for the school flag.

Selling football programs, working at the Charlotte Summer Theater, washing cars, and collecting old papers help to finance the club's activities.

In the spring the Adelphian Club gives a one-hundred dollar scholarship to a deserving senior girl.

Janelle Weir and Jayne Boyd perform the daily Adelphian duty of raising the flag.

Promoting school spirit and supporting Garinger's total program of interscholastic sports are the purposes of the Wildcat Club. In order to fulfill these purposes, the club renders several services throughout the year. During the football season the club sponsors buses to out-of-town games, thereby giving students an extra opportunity to "back the Cats." During basketball season other clubs co-operate with the Wildcat Club to encourage attendance at games. Each participating club sponsors one home game and plans something that will draw a larger attendance.

The club conducts an annual paper drive to raise money to finance its varied undertakings. The climax of the year's activities is a joint party given near the end of the year for members of all of Garinger's athletic teams.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Having earned a varsity letter in any of Garinger's eight interscholastic sports is the requisite for membership in the Monogram Club. In order to become a member, a letterman must also undergo a rigorous initiation. For athletes who are already members, these initiations are highlights of the year's activities.

The Monogram Club seeks to promote a well-rounded interscholastic athletic program for Garinger. Meetings of the club provide an opportunity for athletes engaged in various sports to know each other better.

Mary Ruth Myers and David Wilkinson pick corn to earn money needed for a scholarship.

Los Aventureros is one of Garinger's most active subject-related clubs. Programs presented at meetings held at the homes of various members contribute to the understanding of the history, the people, and the culture of Spanish-speaking countries.

The visit of the students from Peru this year afforded an extraordinary opportunity for club members, who acted as interpreters for the Peruvians and entertained them as house guests, to learn a great deal about a Spanish-speaking people.

Los Aventureros annually awards a scholarship to a deserving senior Spanish student. To finance the scholarship, the club conducted various fund-raising activities, the most unusual of which was picking corn.

First-year students with a B-average, second-year students with a C-average, and all third-year students are eligible for membership in the club.

LATIN CLUB

Participation in the activities of the Latin Club is an enjoyable supplement to the regular classroom experience in studying the language. Through informative programs, members learn about the people, the government, and the culture of ancient Rome; thus they are better able to appreciate the legacy of that great civilization to the modern world.

The monthly meetings at the homes of various members are socially enjoyable. The highlight of the year is the annual Roman Banquet.

A traditional Christmas observance is the contribution by members to the Empty Stocking Fund sponsored by the Charlotte News.

Membership in the club is open to second-, third-, and fourth-year students. Exceptional first-year students are eligible for membership after the first semester.

In the meetings of Le Cercle Francais the members strive to achieve a better understanding of the French language and customs. Through informal and enjoyable study, and informative programs the students find interest in the people and the culture of France.

First-year students who have an average of B or higher may be inducted into the club at the end of the first semester. All second-year French students are eligible for Le Cercle Francais membership.

Striving to promote an appreciation of the joy and satisfaction of homemaking and family life in each of its members is the purpose of the FHA.

Activities of the club this year included talks by various authorities on grooming, hair styling, and fashion. The club's most important project was the selling of name tags to those students going away to college in the fall. The presentation of silver trays to outstanding home-making students was another of the club's projects.

Any girl who has taken or who is presently taking homemaking is eligible for membership in the Future Homemakers of America.

This year the Elmer H. Garinger Club of Future Teachers of America celebrated the 25th Anniversary of the FTA organization on the national level. Garinger's club combined its celebration with the induction of forty-three new members in the fall. Members of the club are interested in exploring career opportunities in the field of education.

Service activities which the FTA performed this year included assisting new teachers at the beginning of the year, honoring the faculty members on Teacher Appreciation Day, and serving as guides for the P. T. A. open house and the South Piedmont District Teachers' meeting.

Activities that the club members enjoyed as they learned more about the teaching profession included attending the State convention at Chapel Hill, attending county-wide meetings at various schools, and engaging in special activities during Teaching Career Month.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

To promote interest in sports for girls and to encourage girls' participation in sports are the purposes of the Girls' Athletic Association. Governed by the state G. A. A. Constitution, the organization recognizes girls for outstanding achievements in sports by awarding points under an established point system.

During the year the members participated in Play Day. This event, conducted annually at High Point, brings girls from many high schools together to compete in such events as volley ball, ping pong, bowling, and relay races.

The club's social activities have included ice-skating parties and wiener roasts.

Y-TEENS

Participation in a variety of service projects has kept the Y-Teens busy this year. At Christmas the members found much joy in the year's big project, dressing dolls for underprivileged children. Some of these dolls won top prizes in an annual doll show in which they were entered before they were sent on to make numerous little girls happy on Christmas morning.

The Y-Teen Club, a non-selective group sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., participated in the Heart Fund drive and helped with several Y-sponsored sales to raise funds for activities sponsored by the Y.W.C.A.

SNIPS & CUTS Representatives are a valuable aid to the annual staff. They help with the annual subscription drive in the fall and with the distribution of annuals in the spring. These representatives are also responsible for supplying any additional information about the yearbook to their homerooms. These services help to reduce the vast work for the comparatively small staff, thus enabling the staff to complete the yearbook on schedule.

GARINGER BUSINESS LEADERS CLUB

The Garinger Business Leaders strives to develop in its members an active interest in a career in business. Guest speakers from the various fields of business are invited to talk at the meetings.

The club consists of junior and senior business students who sustain a C or better average. The club's advisers are Mrs. Martha Hipps and Mr. E. D. Privette.

BIOLOGY ASSISTANTS

Helping to keep the laboratories clean, to keep the lab equipment organized, to run errands, and to assist the teachers by checking objective tests are just a few of the duties performed by the Biology Assistants. Though they do not receive any scholastic credit, they are rewarded with the satisfaction of rendering a very valuable service to the school.

Flo Johnson, Janice Harris, Johnny Evans, Ronnie Byerly, Betty Lindsay, Scott Miller, Edward Stone.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

Helping with attendances, acting as guides to visitors, delivering messages, and running other errands are among the tasks performed by the office assistants. Though these students do not receive credit for their work, they are scheduled for a full period each day in one of the four offices. The volunteer service they render is a great help to other students as well as to the faculty and administration.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross, an organization whose main purpose is service, strives to serve the school and the community. This organization enthusiastically promotes a drive for student membership in the Red Cross. The members use one of the school bulletin boards to inform students of their projects as well as bulletins to inform students of the opportunity to serve as Red Cross volunteers: Grey Ladies, playground assistants, and swimming instructors.

AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Both students and teachers benefit from the valuable services performed by the Audio-Visual Aids Committee. Members of this committee, under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Ballance, help to care for equipment such as film projectors, tape recorders, and record players, and to distribute them as well as films, records, and other audio-visual materials requested by the teachers. These students are trained to operate the equipment and are frequently called upon to show films.

James Ballard, Richard Wooten, Ervin Wilson, Mac Christenbury.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

The main duty of the Library Assistants is to work at the desk helping students to check out books and to return them properly. Though these students receive no credit for their service to the school, they devote one period daily to this work.

First row: Sherry White, Beth Gault, Joyce Ferrell, Sherry Horne, Coleen Capps. Second row: Susan Williamson, Sylvia Swacker, Marie Dellinger, Barbara Collins.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

To promote interest in Amateur Radio as a satisfying hobby and in electronics as a vocation are the main aims of the Garinger High School Amateur Radio Club. Interested students are afforded the chance to become licensed radio amateurs through study of the regulations and experimentations of the Federal Communications Commission. This club was originally established at Central High School in 1953, and is now under the direction of Mr. D. L. Dieter.

CHESS CLUB

Garinger's newest student organization, the Chess Club of Garinger High School, was formed only this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Charles Parker, its adviser, however, it has already made great progress. Membership in the club, which meets twice a month, is open to all students at Garinger.

The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in the game of chess at Garinger; to provide for competition in chess among students, culminating in a tournament at the end of the year to determine the club's best player; and to engage in chess matches with other schools.

Nancy Harris, Sherry White.

BOOK STORE

Distributing books at the beginning of school, selling school supplies during first period, homeroom, and lunch periods, and handling the ordering of announcements and of caps and gowns are the major duties of the Book Store Committee. The time that they devote to their job is of tremendous value to both students and faculty.

MISS ROSALIND LEWIS

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT COMMITTEE

The Foreign Exchange Student Program is designed to further international understanding by giving young people from various nations an opportunity to know each other. Various countries have been represented in the exchange students who have attended Garinger under this program during recent years.

Rosalind Lewis, the 1962-63 exchange student is from Cardiff, Wales. Rosalind plans to become a physical therapist; and when she returns to Wales after her year's study at Garinger, she will enter training in preparation for her career.

The Foreign Exchange Student Committee helps with any work associated with the foreign exchange student, and members of the committee are "on call" in case they are needed by Garinger's exchange student.

The local committee also works with the national Foreign Exchange Program. Members of the committee sit on a panel which includes the principal and other adults to select candidates from the local student body to go abroad during the summer.

The Garinger finalists, whose names and records the Foreign Exchange Committee has sent to the national office, are Toni Rawley and Jayne Boyd.

"OPERATION AMIGO"

Rosa Bartra, Lupe Berna, and Rosa Diaz learn more about North American high school life by looking through a 1962 edition of SNIPS & CUTS.

"Amigos" return to Garinger after a day of touring Charlotte.

High School for Garinger's students this year was an extraordinary experience in international understanding and fellowship. The school was host for two weeks in October to thirteen students from Peru who lived in the homes of Spanish students and attended classes with them.

Garinger "Amigos" were members of a group of thirty-nine students from Arequipa and Lima, Peru, who were selected on the basis of scholastic excellence and leadership in their own schools. Their visit to Charlotte was sponsored by the Charlotte Observer for the purpose of adding to understanding between the people of the Americas.

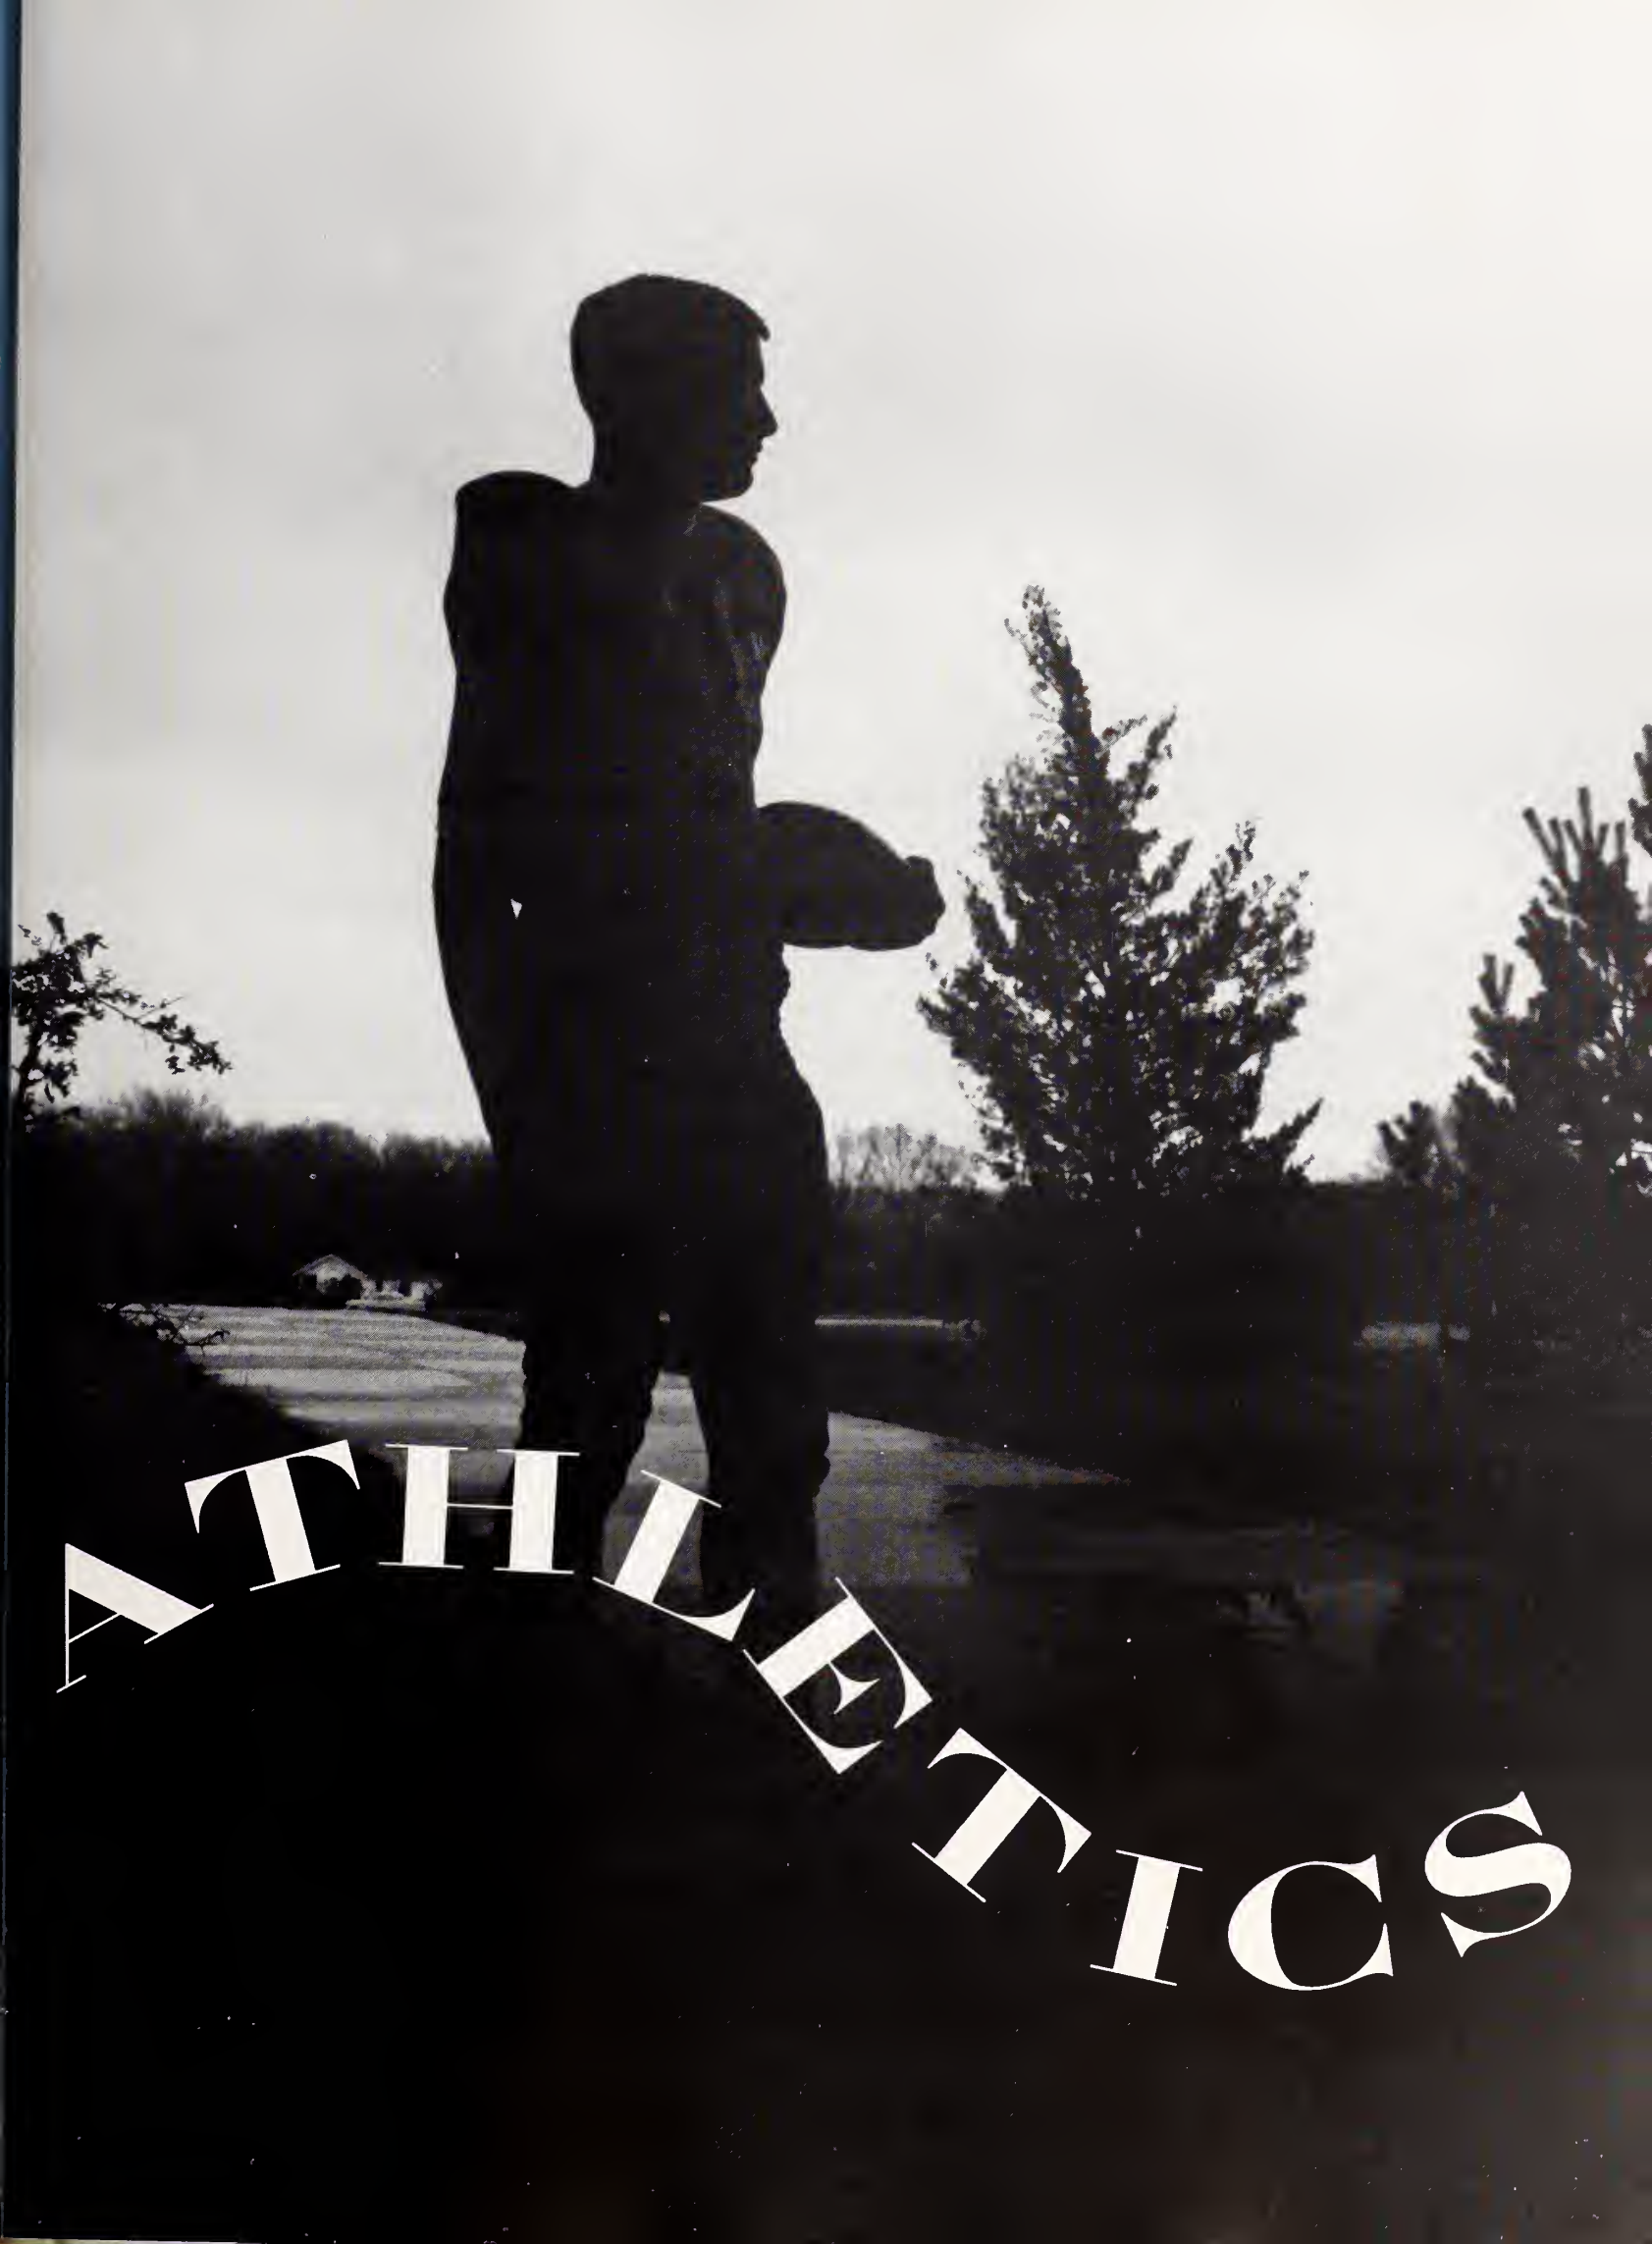

"Amigos" look forward to a day of sight-seeing while their hosts anticipate a day of meeting their classes, as usual.

What is high school? High school is competition. It is the joy, the excitement, the challenge of playing the game! It is a display of determination, stubbornness, courage—the fighting spirit. It is the thrill of victory, the sting of defeat, and the sportsmanlike ability to take either in stride.

High School is also the suspense of watching the contest. It is the ecstasy of cheering the team in victory and the loyalty to keep on backing the boys when the going is rough. High school is the opportunity to develop and to exercise the qualities of fairness, good sportsmanship, loyalty, and courage, whether as player or as spectator, in a program of interscholastic athletics.

1962 SEASON

With only eight lettermen returning, Coach Tomancheck and his assistants had the task of building a football team. Hampered by inexperience, the Wildcats won only four of ten games, however, improvement was apparent as the season progressed, and victories in the last two games brightened the close of the season. This year was profitable in developing some fine prospects for next year's team.

GARINGER 6—EAST 7

The Wildcats started the season by losing a heart-breaker to East. East scored the first touchdown of the game when an East player intercepted a Cheatwood pass on the Garinger 19-yard line and carried it across easily. The p.a.t. attempt succeeded.

Early in the fourth quarter, Garinger drove deep into East territory. Cheatwood handed off to Van Kelly for the touchdown. The extra point was wide, and the final score was 7-6.

GARINGER 0—MYERS PARK 12

Early in the game, Garinger realized that the Mustangs were a tough foe; however, the teams were deadlocked in a scoreless tie when, during the second quarter, the game was interrupted by a violent storm that sent most of the spectators home.

When play resumed twenty minutes later, the tide appeared to turn in favor of the Mustangs, who quickly took the ball over for the first score of the game. The try for extra point was blocked. Later Garinger recovered a Myers Park fumble on the Mustang 20-yard line. The tough Myers Park defense, however, caused the Wildcats to lose the ball on downs. With 7:10 left in the game, the final Mustang touchdown put Myers Park ahead 12-0.

At the annual football banquet, four outstanding members of the team received awards: Denny Scruggs, most valuable; Van Kelly, best back; John Whaley, most improved; Steve Caldwell, best lineman.

Cheatwood hands off to Payne for good yardage in the game against Salisbury.

Easterling, alert on defense, stops this Yellow Jacket for no gain.

GARINGER 7—SOUTH 0

The Wildcats battled the South Sabres to the first Garinger victory of the season. For the first three full periods of play, the teams held each other scoreless. For Garinger, Jerry Smith had supplied most of the motive power for the offense during the entire evening. In the fourth quarter, with 3:05 left in the game, the Cats battled down to the South two-yard line. Quarterback Phil Cheatwood, deciding to run Smith again, handed off to him over right tackle, and Smith scooted over for the only tally of the night. Gary Kinard made the extra point good.

GARINGER 21—SALISBURY 18

The Wildcats entered the fourth game of the season with spirit and a swift-striking offensive squad. In the first quarter Salisbury scored on a 91-yard run. Denny Scruggs broke up the extra point try as he intercepted the pass in the end zone. On the next kickoff to Garinger, the Cats' improved offense was noticeable. A pass from Phil Cheatwood to Ronnie Payne was completed for the first Garinger touchdown. In the second quarter the Wildcats took advantage of a Salisbury fumble and were then set up in scoring position. On a long run, Van Kelly scored to put the Cats ahead. On the ensuing kickoff, Salisbury again fumbled, and Garinger recovered; a few plays later Kelly took a pass from Cheatwood for the third Garinger tally. Gary Kinard's third extra point of the night put Garinger ahead.

With three minutes left in the game, a Salisbury lineman caught a fumble in the air and ran the length of the field for a T. D. A few plays later Salisbury converted another fumble into another touchdown.

GARINGER 13—GASTONIA 26

The Wildcats suffered their third loss of the season to the mighty Green Wave, which scored on long runs the first two times they got possession of the ball. Behind 14-0, the Cats took to the air. Quarterback Phil Cheatwood hit end Denny Scruggs and then halfback Johnny Whaley to drive down to the Gastonia two-yard line. Two plays later Cheatwood scored on a quarterback sneak. The p.a.t. was blocked and the halftime score stood 14-6, Gastonia.

Early in the third quarter one of Cheatwood's passes was picked off and set up another Gastonia score. Steve Caldwell blocked the extra point. On the next kickoff the Cats began a 65-yard drive that ended with Jerry Smith scoring from the seven-yard line. With spirits raised, the Cats tried an onside kick which failed. Gastonia took over on the Garinger 42 and put the game out of reach. Jim Easterling blocked the try for extra point.

GARINGER 6—ASHEVILLE 7

The Maroons of Asheville held on to a one point lead to whip a determined Wildcat eleven. A Wildcat fumble in the first quarter gave Asheville the ball on the Garinger 41-yard line. A few plays later Asheville scored and made good the p.a.t. In the fourth quarter, Garinger took the ball on their own 43-yard line and began a sustained drive down the field. On the last play of the series, Phil Cheatwood passed four yards to Johnny Whaley for the touchdown. The try for the p.a.t. was wide, and this made the difference. Steve Caldwell, Bobby Frickhoeffler, and Paul Sims played a strong defensive game for the Wildcats.

GARINGER 14—ABLEMARLE 20

Albemarle's long runs surprised the Cats with a 20-14 Bulldog victory. Albemarle took the opening kickoff and plays later on a ten-yard pass. The attempt for the p.a.t. failed. Late in the fourth quarter, the Demons put the game out of reach by scoring another touchdown and an extra point.

Garinger's best drive came in the fourth quarter. The Wildcats drove to the 19-yard line where they lost the ball on downs. The biggest play in the drive was a 41-yard pass from Cheatwood to Smyre. Dale Baucom and Johnny Whaley ran well for the Cats.

GARINGER 28—WEST 6

The experience which the Wildcats gained during the season was evident as Garinger romped the Indians of West. Van Kelly took most of the honors, as he scored three of Garinger's four touchdowns.

In the first quarter the Wildcats drove steadily down the field to the West 28-yard line; Kelly then scored on a reverse play. Gary Kinard kicked the p.a.t. The Cats scored again in the second quarter after an 86-yard drive, climaxed by a one-yard plunge by Jim Easterling into pay dirt. Kinard again added the p.a.t.

The Cats took the kickoff opening the second half and marched down the field for another T.D. Kelly carried it over. The p.a.t. failed. West's only score came in the turned it into an 87-yard touchdown. The Wildcats then started a drive down the field for a touchdown, with Jim Easterling carrying the ball over. Gary Kinard kicked the p.a.t. Johnny Whaley received the second half kickoff for Garinger on the 15-yard line and raced 85 yards for the touchdown. Kinard kicked the p.a.t., and Garinger led 14-7. This lead was shattered, as the Bulldogs scored two touchdowns in the third quarter. Garinger got inside the ten-yard line several times but lacked a scoring punch.

GARINGER 0—WINSTON-SALEM 13

The Demons of Winston-Salem Reynolds extended their winning string to seven as they defeated the Cats. Although the Cats put up a strong defense which allowed Reynolds only 122 yards on the ground, they could not get their offense working.

The Demons got their first score in the second quarter. After blocking a punt on the Garinger 42-yard line and running it down to the 25-yard line, they scored several third quarter after a Garinger fumble. Bucky Smyre caught Bill Ellis' pass in the end zone to add two more points for Garinger. The Cats' final score was set up by a pass interception by Kelly. Several plays later Kelly carried it over from the four-yard line.

GARINGER 13—HARDING 7

Garinger made it two straight as they ended the season with a 13-7 victory over arch rival Harding. Garinger opened the scoring early in the first quarter. Jimmy McMillan blocked a Harding punt which went out of play on the Ram 14-yard line. Two plays later Kelly carried it over for the Cats. The kick failed and Garinger led 6-0. In the second quarter the Rams recovered a Garinger fumble and marched down field for the touchdown. The p.a.t. was good.

Late in the second half, Kelly intercepted a Soloman pass and carried it to the Harding 27-yard line. Several plays later Kelly scored. Kinard kicked the p.a.t.

Alton Widenhouse and Bob Godwin, coaches

The Garinger J. V.'s, coached this year by Mr. Alton Widenhouse and Mr. Bob Godwin, gained experience which will be invaluable as they go on to see varsity action next year. Coach Godwin, in his first year at Garinger, has contributed much to this year's J. V. accomplishments.

The Wildkittens, plagued through much of the season by fumbles, were not a championship team; however, in several games they performed well against tough opponents. They gave the Gastonia J. V.'s the best battle of any Garinger team to date. They won over Harding in a thrilling last-second drive, with John Sanger catching two straight and then scoring. They played well in the game with North, only to lose to a very strong team.

Linemen Rodney Beamer, David Tucker, Steve Reese, James Woody, Dan Andrews, and Butch Cochran are outstanding prospects for next year's varsity. Backs Ronnie Hamorsky, Alan Braswell, John Nash, Terry Whit, Don Allison, and Bob Irby have also demonstrated real ability.

The 1962-63 Wildcat Cagers placed third in the Western 4-A Conference tournament and thereby earned a trip to the state tournament in Greensboro. This was a great achievement for Coach Hank Madden, as this was the first Central or Garinger basketball team ever to play in a state tournament. In the first round they lost a hard-fought game to Burlington of the Central Conference.

Of the three returning lettermen—Sammy Todd, Ralph Porter, and Gerald Craig—only Todd and Porter were regular starters last year. Four new men—Jimmy Richards, Van Kelly, Mike Culp, and Robbie Snipes—are expected to be the backbone of next year's club.

Ralph Porter and Jimmy Richards carried most of the scoring load. Gerald Craig and Sammy Todd, though they were not high in scoring, were strong on rebounding and defense.

For excitement, the highlight of the regular season was the second game against East, which Garinger won 69-67 on a field goal by Mike Jarrell in the last second.

Ralph Porter was named on both the all-county high school basketball team and the Western 4-A all-conference team.

COACH JOE TOMANCHEK

With the return of nine members from last year's team, the outlook for this season is very good. Dale Baucom, who hit over .400 for the season last year, should be even better this year. Van Kelly, Jimmy Easterling, Gary Kinard, Phil Cheatwood, and Bobby Boyd, all regulars on last year's team, are back again this year.

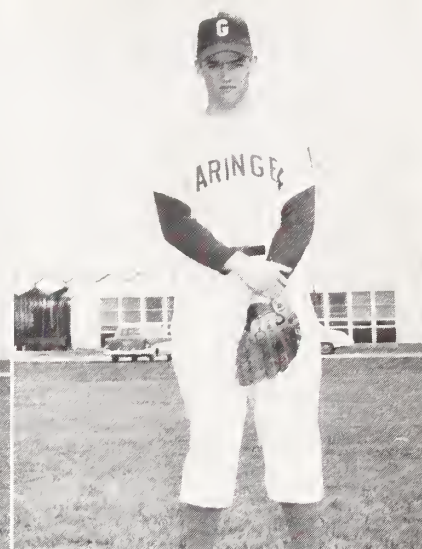

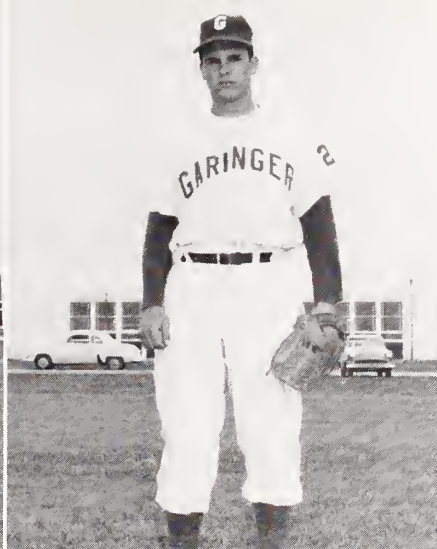

Last year Garinger posted a record of 14 wins, 4 losses. The boys are out to better this record this year. Garinger should be one of the biggest threats in the Western 4-A Conference this year.

TRACK

By opening the season with two straight wins, the first over West and the second over West and Forest Hills, the Wildcat cindermen again demonstrated the value of Coach Buster Ledford's starting practice early. The squad had the speed, skill, and endurance resulting from daily hour-and-a-half workouts during a period of six weeks.

Among the very capable returning trackmen, Steve Bradley, who runs the 400, 220, and 100, was a brilliant prospect for 1963 honors; and half-miler Don Crowder was also outstanding. Terry Gibbons, who runs the mile, and Bill Lewis, 100-yard dash, were able veterans of last year's squad, as were Chuck Adams, discus; Steve Caldwell, shot put; and Sammy Todd and Jimmy Richards, high jumpers. Richards also runs the 100 and 220.

Especially promising among new members of the squad were Richard James, a half-miler, and Don Johnson, pole vaulter.

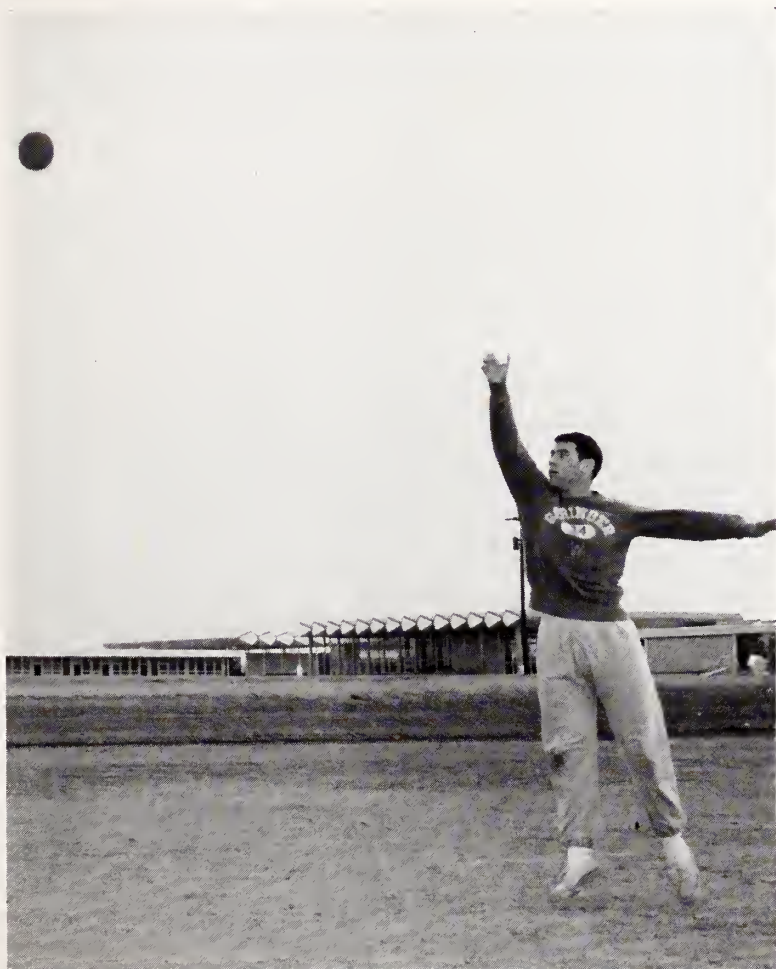

As the yearbook went to press, the Wildcat trackmen were still looking forward to most of the events of what promised to be a great season: the Duke Durham Relays, the Queen City Relays, the District Meet, and, on May 24, the State Meet.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Garinger High School's 1963 Cross-Country squad was a young group, with only two seniors among its top eight runners. In meets involving an average distance of 2.25 miles, Garinger opened its season with three victories over Charlotte and Mecklenburg foes. The Wildcats finished 5th in the Wake Forest College Invitational Meet, 4th in the Davidson College Invitational Meet, 4th in the Western 4A Meet, and 9th in the State Championship at Chapel Hill.

Coach David Fagg, an able newcomer to Garinger's coaching staff, has guided the wrestling team through a very successful season. Though wrestling was established as a varsity sport only last year, the 1963 matmen have scored five team victories and one draw against nine losses.

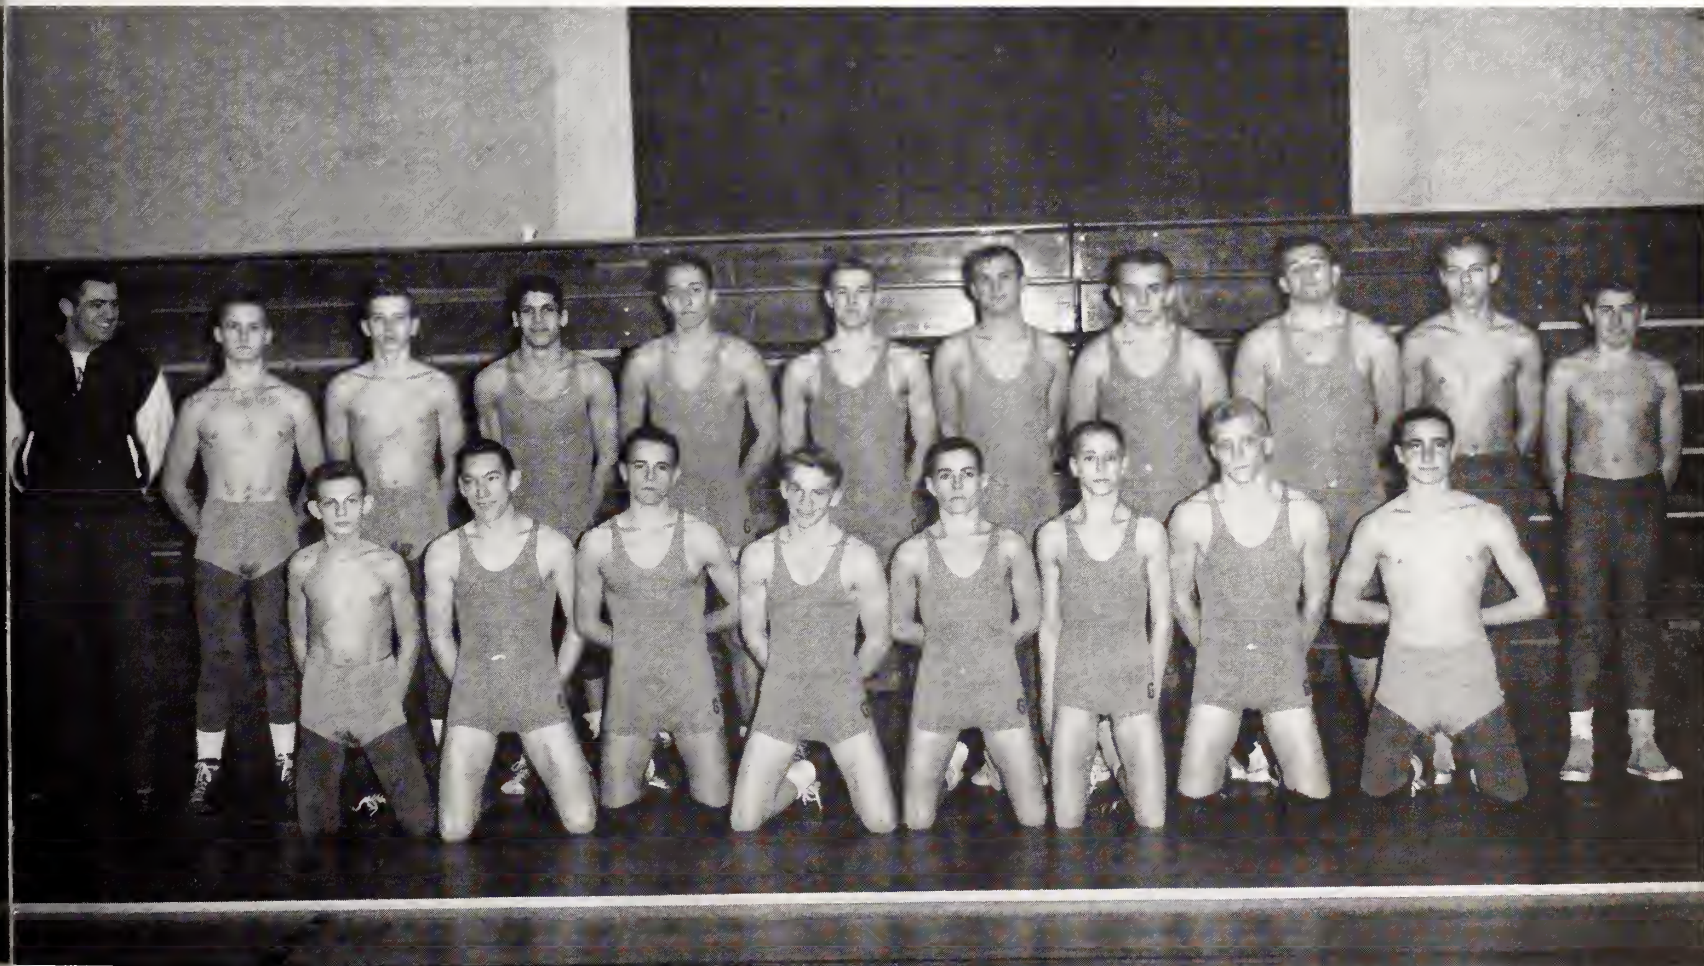

A number of individual winners have made impressive records: Jimmy Robinson in the 127 pound class had eight wins, two losses, and one draw; Jimmy McMillan, 112 pounds, won nine, lost three, and had two draws; and Trey Belk, 95 pounds, won nine and lost three.

In the Sectional Tournament, Howard Thackston placed fourth in the 180 pound class; and Bill Smith, who placed third in the 103 pound class, qualified for the State Finals. Captain Lee Hudson, a strong member of the team, was sick during the tournament.

TENNIS

Hutchison makes a fast serve to his opponent.

With the return of lettermen Ricky Gilleland, Eddie Hutchison, Ralph Porter, Walter Sikes, and Mike Jarrell, this year's tennis team showed plenty of action. Newcomers, sophomore Johnny Roberts and senior Bill Kelly, added much strength to the team. The entire group had a good background of experience, since the new members of the squad have played tennis for some time. With these boys Coach Alton Widenhouse had a good selection from which to build a strong, well-balanced team.

GOLF

Golf, in its second year as an organized sport at Garinger, was again coached by Mr. John Smith. The fact that twenty boys tried out for the eight places on the team was evidence of the increased enthusiasm which brightened Garinger's hopes for a winning team.

The return of three 1962 lettermen—Don White, Jesse Register, and Jimmy Long—provided a strong nucleus for this year's team. Garinger's chances were strengthened by the skill of several of the new players; Don Hagler, especially, looked very promising in pre-season practice.

As the yearbook went to press, the Wildeats were facing a tough schedule involving encounters with most of the schools in the Western 4-A Conference. Neighboring schools on the schedule included Myers Park, East, South, and West.

What is high school? High school is an opportunity to develop the sense of values that enables one to recognize, respect, and appreciate true worth in his associates. It provides the occasion to honor certain outstanding individuals who by effort, coupled with desirable qualities of character and superior intellectual ability, have been able to achieve far beyond the average. It is the opportunity to recognize others who possess such outstanding native gifts as strength, beauty, talent, and personal charm.

What is high school? High school is the reflection of a community for the education of whose sons and daughters the school exists; of a community whose future economic, civic, social, and spiritual life will be enriched by the contributions these young people will be better able to make as a result of their high school experience. It reflects a community which, recognizing the important role education plays in its progress, supports the school. It reflects the interest of many individuals—the business people who encourage student endeavors by choosing school publications as a medium of advertising.

Frankie Boy,

I've really had a great time sitting in the next row in Chemistry with you. Don't that make good sense, it probably doesn't. Well you know me. I only hope we will get out of this class. Be good and don't ever charge. because your a great guy.

Love ya!

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The students at Garinger High School will always be grateful to the many people who have devoted so much of their time and efforts to the production of our 1963 yearbook. Without their contributions volume LIV of SNIPS AND CUTS would never have been possible. We thank all the following for their help in capturing the numerous memories of our 1962-1963 school year:

Mrs. Margaret P. Sims, Adviser
 Mr. Harrie S. Keck, of Observer Printing House, our publisher
 Mr. B. B. Renfrow, of Delmar Studio, underclass photographer
 Mrs. Virginia Christenbury, Mrs. Jean Howarth, Mrs. Genevieve Stewart, of Beverly Studio, senior photographer
 Mr. Edward Sanders and the Garinger Faculty
 The 1962-1963 SNIPS AND CUTS staff, Homeroom Representatives
 The Kingston Trio, judges for the beauty section
 Mr. Haynes H. Dunlap, group photographer

Frank,

Well, boy, it's just about over for another year, and am I ever glad. I'll bet you are, too. I can hardly wait to get away from here.

It sure has been great sitting in the cafeteria with you.

You are a 'rat.' and looks
 I mean. I wish you could give every corner of humor.

Have a great summer, Frank, and good luck with the year - you need it! Love, Mary Ruth and June

Frank -
 It has been a ball having classes with you this year. Too bad we couldn't join Geometry together.
 Best of luck to a wonderful Boy - teacher I think we.

Frank -
 It's been nice knowing you for the past 2 years. I've learned a lot & listening to you has been a lot of fun. I've learned a lot from you. I've met a lot of interesting people here, but none as good as you.
 Sincerely (100-1744!) well I'll see you next year! Yours truly,
